TORONTO TIDINGS.

Mr. John Baker, who left here some little while ago to seek a job in pastures new, has, we learn, secured work in Detroit, Mich.

The Ladies' Aid Society of our church met on November 19th, to arrange for the Chair Auction Social that was held at 56 Wellesley Street, on November 27th. More particulars of the social will be written up in your next issue.

Messrs. Samuel Jones and John C. Zimmerman, of Palgrave, who are deaf brothers-in-law, motored to this city on November 21st, and spent the day in shopping and visiting relatives.

Mr. John McKechevie, of Portage, La Prairie, Man., was a guest of his cousins at "Mora Glen" for several days the latter part of November.

Mr. Lewis Ireland, of Acton, was down to see his friends here over a recent week-end.

Mr. Frank E. Doyle, who has been working in the Danforth Avenue branch of the post office service, has been transferred to the terminal office at the New Union Station, and commenced his duties there on November 23d. Instead of working on the midnight staff as formerly, he now works on the day staff.

We were much pleased to meet our friend, Mrs. Arthur Bowen, of Cookstown, who spent over a week with relatives and friends in this city recently.

On Sunday, November 22d, a very impressive memorial service was held at our church for the late Mr. Philip Fraser, who crossed the Great Divide on November 13th. Mr. A. W. Mason, who originally induced the deceased to take up the good work of sowing seeds of salvation nearly four decades ago, when there were but a handful of the deaf living here, spoke on Mr. Fraser's willingness to share the burden, and the great work he accomplished. Mr. Charles A. Elliott eulogized his noble and upright character.

Mr. John R. Byrne referred to the deceased as a prince of humbleness and a great man in many deeds.

Mr. A. H. Jaffray told of his simplicity of living. Messrs. Fred Terrell and John T. Shilton lauded his high ideals and Christian disposition. There was a very good assemblage, and Miss Carrie Brethour graciously rendered, "Lead, Kindly Light, Amid the Encircling Gloom."

While motoring in this city on November 20th, Mr. Lisgar Ball and his hearing brother, of Baltimore, Ont., figured in an auto mishap, but nothing serious resulted.

Mr. William Hazlett has secured a nice position with the Reliance Engraving Co., and likes it fine.

Since Mr. Philip Fraser went to the Great Beyond, scores of messages of condolence have been pouring in from all quarters to his bereaved relatives.

AURORA ANSWERS.

Mrs. Herbert McKenzie and daughter, Miss Sarah, were recent visitors to Toronto, where they had a good time.

Mrs. Eli Corbieri has fallen a victim to the enticing fashion, and sports about shorn of her flowing mane. Her hubby, who murmured at first, now smiles more radiantly.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Avarell, of Cookstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jones, of Palgrave, motored down here on November 22d, to attend the Roberts meeting.

The beautiful and commodious home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McKenzie was the scene of a pleasant gathering of a good number of the deaf on November 22d, when Mr. Herbert W. Roberts, of Toronto, conducted two interesting religious meetings.

Messrs. Herbert McKenzie and Eli Corbieri are still steadily employed at the Sisman Shoe Company, where they have been for nearly a quarter of a century, while Mr. Francis A. West is holding down a good position at the Aurora foundry.

LONDON LEAVES.

Mr. Herb. Wilson was recently laid up with lumbago, but is around again.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fisher and son, Albert, motored to Hamilton, where they spent the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives. This is their fifth trip to that city since they bought their car.

On Sunday, November 22d, Mr. Howard J. Lloyd, of Brantford, delivered a very forceful and clearcut sermon at the Y. M. C. A., on "Works," assisted by Miss Reta Windrim, who graciously rendered, "I Love to Sing for Jesus." There was a very large attendance. Afterwards, Mr. Lloyd gave out the details respecting the death of Mr. Philip Fraser, of Toronto.

In order to show their great appreciation for their regular attendance at his weekly Bible Class during the past season, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fisher entertained the deaf of this city and countryside to one of the pleasantest social events of the year, when, on November 21st, they invited them all to All Saints' Church, where a grand time was spent, and upwards of forty-five availed themselves of this hospitality.

Among those present from outside points were noticed, Mr. and Mrs. George Munro, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Smalldon, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paul and Mrs. George E. Jolly, of St. Thomas, Mrs. Charles Ryan and Miss Iva Hughes, of Woodstock, Mr. James Adkin, of Bothwell, Wilbur Elliott and Russel Groves, of Ingersoll, Merton McMurray, of Thamesford, and Howard J. Lloyd, of Brantford. A feature of the gathering was the presence of Mrs. John Pincombe, who seldom misses such functions, despite her 84 summers.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Mr. Cyrus Young, of Embro, was in Woodstock on November 22d, but was disappointed to find his friends had gone to the meeting in London.

After working in Belleville since the spring, Mr. Thomas Dand has finished for a while and motored to his home in Flesherton, where he may sojourn all winter, and go to his job at Belleville again in the spring. On November 22d, he motored over to Singhampton, and picking up Mr. John Taylor, continued on to Horning Mills, where they spent the day most pleasantly with the Middleton family.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sipe, of Halliburton are moving into their new home soon, a bungalow cottage which Mr. Sipe built, assisted by Chas. K. Ford, of Toronto.

Mr. Wilbur Elliott, of Ingersoll, was calling on relatives and friends in Woodstock on November 19th.

We glad to say that our old friend, Mr. David Bayne, of Ottawa, who was under the weather lately, is now well again. He takes much interest in the JOURNAL, that he sends the writer his renewal to this paper with the declaration that it's the best.

Mrs. John C. Zimmerman and Mrs. Samuel Jones, of Palgrave, have been to the tonorial parlors, and now look more maiden like, minus their flowing locks.

Mr. Roy Bowen, of Cookstown, has completed a month's work for Mr. Samuel Avarell.

Mr. Samuel Jones, of Palgrave, has returned home after helping Mr. John Dean, of Nobleton, with some carpentry work. He was engaged there for a month.

Mrs. William Phillips, of Lisle, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jones in Palgrave for a little while recently, and reports a delightful time.

On a recent Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Avarell, of Cookstown, set out to motor up to Horning Mills for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Middleton, but had hardly gone far, when a heavy snowstorm caught them. Fearing they might get snow-bound, they turned back and went to a sister's instead, not far from home. They plan to go and see the Middletons at the earliest opportunity.

Mrs. Reta Boss Coles, who is still down with her parents in Nova Scotia, wishes it to be known that her father has not yet undergone his intended operation in the Boston

Hospital. On account of pressing home duties on his beautiful three hundred acre farm, he is waiting for a favorable time, when he can get away. Mrs. Coles and Mrs. Ida Cherry Robertson, who is with her, have not hinted at coming home as yet.

Mrs. W. J. Baird, of Beeton, was a recent visitor to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jones in Palgrave.

We regret that the only living sister of Miss Mary Bull, of Bloomindale, who is blind, has been very ill lately, but sincerely hope she is better now.

A very pleasant social evening, was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Armstrong, in Westmount, near Montreal, the other evening. There were twenty-two deaf friends present, who whiled away the happy moments until after midnight, playing the game of 500. Miss Oliver Ferry won first prize.

Mr. George Goulding, of Toronto, motored up to Cookstown lately, and with Mr. Roy Bowen, of that place, went over to see Mr. and Mrs. Ursula Johnson in Barrie, and took Miss Gladys Johnson to the movies while there.

While in Detroit not long ago, Mr. Adolphe Kresin, of Port Huron, ran into an old friend, whom he had not seen for ages, and it was some time before their identification could be established. This friend was no other than our old friend, Mr. William B. Larkin, who was a pupil at the Belleville School years ago. He now lives in Jackson, Kentucky, where he has a flourishing jewellery establishment managed by his son.

HERBERT W. ROBERTS.

ST. LOUIS

The annual supper of St. Thomas' Mission on the 21st, was well attended, and all who came had an enjoyable evening. The Woman's Guild had a real turkey supper ready with all the usual trimmings and then some extra, that go with the bird, and if there were any who were dissatisfied after the meal, the writer did not see them. The evening was in charge of Mrs. Thurer, with a corps of assistants and one lone man, Leo Froning, who came early on some other work and was corralled to help throughout the whole evening. The crowd came early and stayed late, going only after a strong hint given, by switching the light off an instant. A good sum was realized by the Guild for its treasury.

Rev. Cloud is rapidly recovering from his recent operation, and expects to resume holding services, beginning with the first Sunday in December.

Mrs. Thurer has been compelled to go to St. Luke's Hospital, due to an old foot trouble. She delayed attending to it till the Guild supper, of which she was in charge, had been held.

Among recent visitors to this city were Mr. and Mrs. Tilley, of San Francisco, and Clarence Murdy, the latter on his across the States tour.

The niece of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Froning was chosen by a local daily as the heroine of a serial movie story featured by the paper in question. Choice was made from a large field of contestants, the points being on beauty, acting ability, and cases of photographing. The many friends of the Fronings rejoice with them that their niece won. She was featured in the daily in each issue—the paper made no mistake in selecting her.

The Percent Club met on the 21st, and was entertained by Mrs. Cowick at the home of her parents. The prizes of the day were won by Mesdames Arnot and Weber. Refreshments were served, and a general good time was had by the members. Among those present were Mesdames Harden, Steinemann, Moegle, Froning and Beisettler.

Work on the new $300,000 Public Day School for the Deaf has started by laborers, wrecking the present buildings on the site preparatory to excavation work. The school is expected to be ready in the fall of 1926. The new building will be quite a change from the one-room school in the tenement district of the city that the writer attended in his youth. The credit of obtaining the school and seeing the appropriations pass through the Board of Education belongs to Mr. Emil Barth and his assistants, who have now the satisfaction of seeing the results of their efforts rise in brick and stone.

Several of the deaf autoists made a Thanksgiving trip to Fulton to see friends at the State School of the Deaf there. Among them were Messrs. and Mesdames Eckerich and Lynch, with Mrs. Sam Stack and Mr. Wisenborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Beeton, of Dyer, Tennessee, came to this city on an excursion, and gave their friends, the Brockmans, a surprise visit for a few days.

Mrs. Huston, an aged deaf lady living at 4122A Newstand Avenue, this city, is looking for a deaf couple who would like to live with her, as company in light housekeeping rooms. Parties interested can write the above for particulars.

The engagement of Miss Cecelia Leon and Mr. Allen Bowler is announced. Both parties are of the popular younger set in St. Louis, and their many friends have a future date to look forward to.

Some of the local crowd made a Dutch treat of their Thanksgiving dinner, by journeying to the home of the Wess's, near Belleville, Ill., and having a community spread. The cost per capita was much lower than separate dinners and the merriment was much greater. In the afternoon cards were played for prizes, donated by Mr. Wess. Among those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Arnot, Froning, Berwin, Steidemann, Miss Wilson, of Belleville, and hearing relatives of Mrs. Wess.

The Euchre Club held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rodenberger, in East St. Louis, Ill., on the 25th. The prizes of the evening went to the Arnots, Mr. Steidemann and Mrs. Harden. The usual good time was had.

Mrs. Otis Voder, of Angola, Indiana, is visiting the Steidemanns for a short stay. Both ladies attended the Indiana school and of course have plenty to say when they meet.

The Home Fund Chapter in St. Louis seems to have secured a new lease of life this year, under the leadership of Mr. Berwin. The meetings in the Public Library are being more attended than formerly, and several plans to raise funds for the Home are under consideration. The chapter has decided to charge all members 50 cents a year, and will give a mask ball on January 16th, at Wieser's Hall, the proceeds going to the Home.

Mr. Oscar Bibb, of Charleston, Mo., was in town for a short stay recently.

The Gallaudet Club will give its annual mask ball on the 12th, at Weiser's Hall. The committee in charge of the affair is making special efforts to have it remembered as the best ever in every way, so none will be disappointed in attending the ball.

Mr. Kaufman, of Chicago, came down for a few days to see his old friends, the Perlmutters, former residents of the Windy City. He took in the Gallaudet Club during his stay here.

Will Williams, of East St. Louis, who some time ago signed a note at the instance of a hearing friend, and was left holding the bag when the note became due, was rescued from any trouble resulting by the efforts of Mrs. Ballard, the hearing daughter of Mrs. Pancake, an old resident of both sides of the river. William has now learned it does not pay to sign anything without looking at it a few times in advance.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Frank Bowditch Roberts died about 5:30 A.M., Monday, November 16th, 1925, aged 69 years. He had been complaining of headaches for two days, and Sunday night he thought he saw a ghost and threw his arms round a roomer he met. He apparently lost control of his legs at the foot of the stairway and fell on his face. He died after being taken to his bed. The doctor pronounced the probable cause as concussion of the brain. He left a widow, Nellie McBerney Ellis, his second wife, and two step children. His father was a millionaire at his death, and Frank Roberts was used to fortune. He was a quite big-hearted, kindly, sincere man, hating hypocrisy, and dissipated his money in helping friends and relatives. He was a master at his trade and an able seaman, who sailed the Atlantic at its worst, and had the canny ability of forecasting weather correctly. He was a member of Professor Kennedy's Bible Class. His body was cremated and the ashes scattered over the Pacific.

W. H. G. Sparling slipped and fell backward, one hip striking an upright stick. Swelling resulted and he has been unable to work for four weeks.

Edwin Johnson, of Seattle, has come south. He expects to stay away from Washington.

Claude C. Hollinger and T. C. Mueller were laid off by the furniture factory at Inglewood. C. C. Hollinger is now working at the Klurg factory at 14th and Long Beach Avenue, Los Angeles. I am wondering where that guy Mueller will land, as he has also been ousted from his apartment. Work is scarce in South California.

Paul R. Wys, of Kansas City, sends me an original poem "My Dream," in which he derides prohibition. Having tramped Los Angeles many miles, many times, and not seeing one drunk, I am inclined to think prohibition prohibits as much as the statutes against other crimes work.

Mr. Allman, of Chicago, lost the use of his legs and was taken to Murrieta Hot Springs, from which he came back better. He and I bussed to Santa Barbara, where he called on his old collegemate, James M. Park.

The Ward Smalls and W. S. Waters attended the A. C. D. Masquerade, November 20th.

Mr. Allman is going back to Chicago to stay.

The ways of the bootlegger are dark and mysterious. A tip sent the dry squad out Ventura Boulevard. A load of hay drawn by two peaceful farm horses, and manned by four men and two women in conventional farm garb, came along. The officers heard hymn singing, and the voices impressed them as sincere. Later, returning to Los Angeles, they found the team loose on a place near the highway, hay and straw scattered over the place, the wagon half unloaded of the hay and straws, and tracks of trucks heavily laden!

I was fifty-four on the 13th. I expected to live to 70 or 80, but mean to undergo a gland operation before then, so I may live 30 years more, and again have another operation about that time, and so on ad infinitum. Wy not? What is wrong?

NEWS AND COMMENT.

It is certainly good news to learn from our daily newspapers that the cost of living is lower in Atlanta than elsewhere. But we doubt that we'll be able to save anything out of it to make our income tax look less formidable.

The Stork is still hovering around Atlanta. On November 8th he left another new citizen, a boy, which arrived to brighten the home of the John Gardners, of LaGrange, who have been sojourning in this city temporarily, preparatory to taking possession of the W. J. C. Hodges' farm January 1st.

The bobbed hair craze is just beginning to extend to the Savannah deaf. We are told that the ones that held out against it the longest have just succumbed to the craze and had their hair bobbed in the latest fashion. They are Mrs. Fred Hart, Miss Mary Hart and Miss Viola Weil. The deaf are now 100 per cent bobbed in Savannah.

The latest contributors to the Nadfrats "building fund" are—

Prof. and Mrs. J. H. McFarlane	$5 00
Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Hart (Savannah)	3 00
Miss Mary Hart (Savannah)	1 00
Miss Viola Weil (Savannah)	1 00

The club has not been pushing the drive lately, deciding to wait their further activities upon the election of new officers in January. After the new set of officers are elected and installed, the campaign will be taken up again and carried through to a finish.

Mrs. Henry Morris, wife of Henry Morris, who was formerly employed as a printer at the North Dakota School for the Deaf, is in this city spending a week, visiting with Rev. and Mrs. S. M. Freeman before going to Miami, Fla., to join her husband, who is now located in that city.

MIAMI, FLA., November 24.—Two deaf and dumb men were drowned and another mute saved, after a long swim in a fishing tragedy in Biscayne Bay early this morning.

The drowned men are Carl Henderson, of Charleston, S. C., and Fred Hall, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., whose names were written on a scrap of paper, about 1 o'clock this morning, by Curtis Davison in the local Y. M. C. A.

Davison himself, a mute, his clothes dripping with water as he wrote, he gave first details of the tragedy, as he scrawled:

"Tell the police to find my two deaf friends. They were drowned. I was saved." Subsequent notes written by Davison stated that the party of three had gone fishing yesterday, in a small boat which had capsized about a mile from shore and three miles south of Miami about dark. He wrote that he had swum the distance to shore and walked the remaining distance to the city.

Surrounded by "Y" officials and local detectives, Davison, shivering from exposure and hysterical, penned his fateful story. He wrote that he came to the Association building because he had been attending a class for deaf-mutes there weekly. He revealed the fact that he and his friends were carpenters at Coral Gables, and that he had come here from Birmingham, Ala., recently.—Atlanta Constitution.

The beautiful East Lake Country Club House was destroyed by fire, of an unknown origin, on November 22d. Those of the deaf who attended the Atlanta N. A. D. Convention will recall this place as that at which the Dixie Dinner was held, and also the place of the great Water Pageant, staged for the entertainment of the guests, at which the lives of two professional entertainers were snuffed out by drowning in the lake, and at which president Cloud and several others had narrow escapes from a like fate. We are told that the officials of the club will at once start the erection of a much larger and finer building. This is the second time in twelve years that the East Lake Club house has been destroyed by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. James Overby, of North Carolina, are now located at Stilson, Ga., where Mr. Overby is now operating an auto-garage and doing well. Mrs. Overby was formerly Miss Bertha Hyde, of Alabama City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Hart, of Savannah, have moved into their beautiful new home, 1520 Abcorn Street, and are delighted with it and its lovely new furnishings. For many years, Mr. Hart has resided with his father at 137 W. Broad Street, but as his family has begun to increase with the birth of his son, Freddy, Jr., he felt that it was time to establish a separate home of his very own, hence the new bungalow and its beautiful furnishings. Mr. Hart is a thriving young business man of Savannah, where he was born and raised, and his new home is an evidence of how well he has prospered. This writer has received a cordial invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Hart to visit them in their new home, and if we ever happen to go down that way, we will surely avail ourselves of the invitation, as we have desired for quite a long while to visit that city and meet and mingle with its bunch of substantial deaf citizens.

Mrs. A. Shannon, of Claxton, Ga., has moved to Savannah to make that city her future home. She will go to Tampa, Fla., shortly after Christmas, to visit her son for a month or two.

Dora Driggers, aged 53, will be tried in police court tomorrow morning on a charge of begging on the street.

Mrs. Barger, county police-woman, was entering the county jail this morning when she was stopped by a woman who handed her a note, stating that she was unable to talk and needed help. Mrs. Barger went to her office and called the city police to investigate, and when called Officer Hantz brought the woman, Dora Driggers, into the county police office. Mrs. Barger asked her whether she was white or colored, and to the surprise of all present, "Indeed I am white," was the curt reply she received. Upon being asked for the note which explained that she could not talk, she flatly refused and was placed on the docket for tomorrow.—Savannah (Ga.) Press.

Miss Viola Weil, of Savannah, has returned to her home, after spending the greater part of the Summer visiting a sister at Sumter, S. C.

The Atlanta Frats held a box supper, at their lodge room, Redmen Hall, on November 26th, which we are told was very enjoyable and well attended. On account of the very inclement weather, this scribe was unable to attend, hence have no particulars of the affair at this time.

With the Frats election of officers in December and the Nadfrats in January, the candidates are busy rounding up votes. This scribe desires no office and will get out of those we are already in, if we can. We will cast our vote for the best man (or rather woman) and let it go at that.

Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet.

THE date of this issue of the JOURNAL is December 10th—the birthday of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet.

He is the man to whom the deaf should be everlastingly grateful and eternally indebted. He founded the first school for the deaf in America, and as generation succeeds generation, his philanthropy should be told over and over again. We must never forget our first great friend and benefactor.

In September last a replica of the Statue erected by the Deaf of the United States, which stands on the terrace of Gallaudet College, was placed conspicuously in front of the American School for the Deaf—the School which Gallaudet founded at Hartford, Ct. Like the bronze statue at the college in Washington, this also was erected through nationwide subscriptions of the deaf, instigated and managed by the National Association of the Deaf.

Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet was graduated with honors from Yale College. He was also a minister of the Gospel. When a young man, he sacrificed a career of promise and emolument for the uncertainties and trials that are inherent to any untied field of service. Out of his sympathetic heart and cultured mind, there was born a resolution to rescue the deaf from ignorance and mental darkness. This was inspired by a meeting with little Alice Cogswell, a deaf and dumb daughter of one of his friends. It is to her he is represented as teaching the word "God," in the statue at the Gallaudet College, which has been reproduced and presented to the school at Hartford.

In the middle of last century, the deaf of New England presented Gallaudet with a silver pitcher and salver, and after his death erected a monument to his memory. It is to replace this monument, which had crumbled with the lapse of years, that the replica of the College statue was presented.

The blessings that accrued to the deaf through Gallaudet's efforts in founding a school for them, are so great and widely spread as to need no special reference.

To quote from the address delivered by the Editor of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, at the centennial of the founding of the American School for the Deaf, in the year 1917:—

"There was one school for the deaf on the American continent on April 15th, 1817, and seven pupils under instruction. To-day there are 157 schools in the United States, 64 of which are public residential schools, 74 public day schools, and 19 denominational and private schools. The aggregate number of pupils is quite close on to fifteen thousand, and the total annual expenditure for their education is approximately three and a half million dollars.

"The little seed that Gallaudet planted at Hartford became a tree of enlightenment, which has burgeoned and grown and expanded until its overspreading branches encompass a continent, wherein the boon and blessing of an education to every deaf child no longer depends upon sporadic charity or private opulence, but is vested in the economic wisdom and careful liberality of the State."

Besides being founder of the first school for deaf-mutes in America, Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet gave to the service of the deaf two of his sons, who attained eminence and won the esteem and love of the deaf—Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, who first instituted the blessings and comforts of religion for the adult deaf, and founded the first Home for the Aged and Infirm Deaf; and Dr. Edward Miner Gallaudet, who founded the only college in the world for the higher education of the deaf.

Among the deaf the memory of Thomas Hopkins should ever be revered and loved.

DETROIT.

The Ladies Guild of St. John's Church held its annual election of officers, December 3d. The number of ladies, who attended this meeting, was unprecedented. Over forty turned out—Regular and social members. A great interest was shown in this election as in previous years, officers have been elected that were distasteful to the old members of Church. The election, December 3d, tends to show that the old members have come to a determination to have this, so they elected the following staunch and true officers: Mrs. G. E. M. Nelson, President, by acclamation.

Mrs. Geo. May, Vice-President; Mrs. Oliver Wells, Secretary; re-elected; Mrs. F. E. Ryan, Assistant Secretary; Mrs. G. E. Engell, Treasurer, re-elected. The retiring, President Mrs. A. R. Schneider, who for two years held the reins, and was partly responsible for the forming of the combination of old members, and keeping the undesirable out. She made a neat speech praising the new president, and thanking the members for their loyalty to her for the past two years, and hope they will assist Mrs. Nelson in the same way, if not better. Mrs. Nelson fame is known as a writer for the JOURNAL and other independent Deaf papers, under the nom de plume of Pansy. The Rev. C. W. Charles is to be congratulated upon the Guild's selection of these excellent officers.

GREENSBURG, PA.

Mrs. John F. V. Long delightfully entertained a few guests at a chicken and waffle dinner, at her home in Youngwood, on Thanksgiving evening. An enjoyable evening was spent in social interview by those present. Of course, ye local was invited at the Long home, and enjoyed the feast thoroughly.

Mrs. P. T. Gettins, of Haydenville, was paid an insurance claim in the life of her late husband recently. She thinks that she will stay at the cottage for a time that belongs to the Keystone Coal Company. Her oldest daughter is employed in the packing department of the Greensburg Glass Company, where John B. Smith, of Mt. Pleasant, does.

We wish to thank the Philadelphia correspondent very much for the kind compliments shown us in regard to the articles donated to the annual Bazaar of All Souls' Church held lately.

General sorrow was expressed on every side at the death of our highly esteemed friend, Mrs. Elmer Havens, of Pittsburgh. We always regarded the deceased as a woman of considerable intelligence. She was for four years, a student at Gallaudet College. Our sincere and heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mr. Havens and family in their cheerless bereavement. Mrs. Havens had to resign her office as president of the Western Pennsylvania Alumni Association, at Edgewood, on account of ill health. Deceased will ever be sadly missed in mutedom in the Pittsburgh district.

The writer was surprised as well as soory to hear of the death of his former schoolmate, Clemen Parlaman, of Reading. He can not help thinking of him as a mischievous boy in the old days, when the school was then located at Broad and Pine Streets, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, attended the funeral of their former schoolmate, Hugh Cosgrove, in Pittsburgh. Mr. Smith was one of the pall bearers for his late chum.

REX.

Jens Madsen, of Wenatchee, is visiting in Seattle.

Dr. Hanson held services in Portland and Vancouver November 29th. After the service in Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Reichle took him home for dinner, and afterward in their car to Vancouver. While in Vancouver, he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Divine.

Mr. William J. La Motte, of Chicago, is now in Portland, and staying at the Reichle home. He says he likes Portland, and expects to make it his home.

Mr. Reichle has recently installed a furnace in his house, and now has a very cozy and comfortable home.

The first contributions in this State to the Edward Miner Gallaudet Memorial Fund were made at Tacoma on November 20th, as follows:—

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lorenz	$2 00
Mr. and Mrs. George Ecker	2 00
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Key	2 50
Mr. Hiram G. Hopping	1 00
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burgett	2 00
Mrs. Eva A. Seeley	1 00
Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hale	2 00
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lowell	5 00

Total $17 50

Every deaf person in the State is asked to contribute one dollar or more to the fund. Washington's quota is $566.

The weather this fall has been unusually beautiful in this section. Strawberries were ripening out of doors the last week in November. Many varieties of flowers are still in bloom. During the two big football games with Stanford and Oregon it did not rain at all, and on Thanksgiving day the sun shone brightly all day.

THE HANSONS.

December 1, 1925.

Reading, Pa.

Sunday, November 28th, a team of all deaf stars was gotten together by the three Hoshauer brothers and a football game was played against the Lunatic A. A. of Reading, which attracted a large number of deaf persons from Eastern Pennsylvania to Shillington, three miles from Reading. The game was hard fought, as the score, 7 to 6 in favor of the deaf team indicates. The stars were by far the better team. They had only been together for two hours before the game and the team work really was surprising. Evans, captain of the Mt. Airy team of 1924, was the outstanding player with several pretty wide end runs. The whole team played a good game. They are trying to assemble the team again for a game with Conshohocken, December 6th.

Sylvester Hoshauer had his Chevrolet touring car stolen, Saturday night, November 28th. It was later abandoned after having been driven over 100 miles. It was covered with mud to the roof and a fender slightly damaged, two spring bolts broken, lock tampered with, could not be unlocked causing switch to remain on, which drained the battery, ruining same. A football outfit was missing. Mr. Hoshauer had loaned the outfit and therefore must make good the loss. Who's the culprit?

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Schenck are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, November 25.

Miss Sarah Livingstone, Harrisburg, Pa., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ritchie, November 21st; also Miss Mary Pennell, of West Chester spent Thanksgiving holidays with the writer.

With regret the death of Clement Parlaman, 63, is announced. He passed away November 16th, after being in ill health for some time. His wife preceded him in death last year. Rev. F. C. Smielau, assisted by a hearing minister, conducted services at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Blaine Turner, as well as at Laureldale Cemetery, where interment was held.

Miss Elizabeth Ahrens moved with her family to their new home at Hampden Heights. The place is the most beautiful residential section in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate and family, of Philadelphia, spent several days, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cashmersac.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian Snyder, Miss Violet Harner and the writer motored to Topton for a call on Miss Capitola Biery and Mrs. Carl Wagner and family. A chicken dinner with pies a-la-Wagner was done justice to.

Rev. F. C. Smielau will hold services in Reading, Dec. 13th. It will be his last visit of the year. Let's resolve to attend services more regularly in 1926. The New Year's just around the corner.

Mrs. William Stoner, of Coatesville, and children, visited her sister, Mrs. Raymond Fritz and family, over the Thanksgiving holiday.

The Berks County Local Branch is wide awake in the interest of the new Home at Torresdale. On the evening of December 2d, a package social under the leadership of Mrs. Roger Williams netted $14.

Interest seems contagious since our President, F. C. Smielau, has rolled up his shirt sleeves, and others are following suit.—E. C. R.

Gallaudet College

Recently the students subscribed a sum of money with which to buy a handsome trowel. This they sent to St. Louis, where it will be used to lay the cornerstone of the new Gallaudet Day School building in course of construction in that city. The ceremony, we understand, will take place this month. When it is over the trowel will be suitably inscribed and preserved in the building.

Head senior B. B. Burnes has for some time past received a great deal of propaganda on the World Court proposal. The position of the United States on this proposition will be determined in Congress this month. The supporters of the plan are very desirous of learning what attitude the nation's students hold toward it. To this end they have arranged for a straw vote on the World Court plan in all the colleges and universities of the country. Gallaudet students will vote this week.

Early in the week our silver-peaked Prep, McCannless, developed such plump cheeks that Dr. Donnelly had to lock him up and put him under quarantine for mumps.

Sulo Alto, '28, who hopped around for a solid month on one leg and two "stilts," now pedals about on two sound feet. It was a costly sacrifice the Connecticut Yankee laid on the altar of football, and we all rejoice that he has at last come through in good shape.

The basketball season opened at Gallaudet on December 1st. Capt. Wallace and twenty-six aspirants for the varsity team pulled on their rubber soles. Besides Capt. Wallace, Gallaudet has some dependable veterans in Byonk, Miller, McCall and Scarvie. Sad to relate, we are minus the services of that peerless flash of the court, William Riddle, who left college for good last spring. The new class has a large group out, but none of them has yet shown exceptional ability. The squad was so fortunate as to secure Mr. Jack Hass of the city to coach them, Mr. Hughes, our veteran mentor, declining the offer to serve again. When Mr. Hass is not here Manager Krug takes charge of the athletes. The way this wool-topped Californian makes the men do their stuff is a caution. To date he has scheduled 10 games and has 4 or 5 pending. At the time of this writing Coach Haas has reduced the squad to 15 men, the number he wants to work with. In the early practices the old-men have shown good speed. If the recruits can be developed to back up our veterans we stand a chance of going through a winning season.

A company of 28 Co-eds and Misses Nelson and Coleman paid an afternoon visit to the young women of the Colonial School on 17th Street, Wednesday, December 2d. The Misses of that society institution extended our fair representatives a warm welcome and showed them real hospitality. The Co-eds reported that they were surprised at the unusual richness of the interior of the building. There were butlers by the door and everything was "just so." Before leaving the fair Gallaudet company enjoyed a delicious luncheon of ice cream, tea and cakes, with the elite damsels.

During the dinner hour, on December 3d, James Flood presented on behalf of Miss Nelson a large football to Finis Reneau, captain of the Nelson University, victors in the Mollcodde football games on Thanksgiving Day. Great applause followed. The ball was filled with delicious candy, and on it appeared the message: When Caesar Kicked Gaul, November 26th, 1925. A tag bore the following inscription: To Capt. Reneau and his invincible Mollcoddies, from their mascot. Finis put on such a big smile we couldn't find the rest of his face.

The quietest hour in the month is that following the distribution of the Buff and Blue. The December Hour of Silence came directly after dinner on the 3d. Many forgot to finish eating, others stopped under dim lights in the halls to absorb the wisdom of Kendall Green sages. In the Reading Rooms figures leaned against the walls and tables or rested huddled in chairs dead to the world, only an occasional turning of a page disclosing presence of life. Truly, thou art powerful, oh type!

The Annual Football Dance was held amid much eclat in the Men's Refectory on Friday evening, December 4th. The gay company tripped it off with well-ordered precision, not a trace of a hitch marring the joy of the evening. Led by Capt. Rose and his smiling partner, Miss Shannon, the couples circled the room in a grand march and then danced off 16 numbers. The dancing was of the decidedly high order, seen only in select college circles. The room was not heavily decorated, as it was understood that the exquisite gowns of the Co-eds and the rich suits of the men would supply the necessary ornamentation, which they did admirably well. The few banners that were displayed on the walls were tastefully arranged, and a half dozen palms on the floor added to the beauty of the scene. Sweet-scented oriental perfumes filled the room with delicate aroma. Intoxicating notes welled forth from a corner occupied by three dusky musicians, who, it is averred by hearing people present, were the most skilled performers heard in local circles for a long, long time. Among the gentleman drawing special attention were Messrs. Fletcher and Shibley, who flipped swallow-tails all evening. For three full hours the couples danced carefree and happy as larks. At 11 o'clock all bade goodnight to the patronesses, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Drake and Mrs. Hughes. The success of the dance was due to the excellent preparations made by the dance committee, to wit: Messrs. Kaercher, '26, Marsden, '27, Landry, '28, Mudgett, '29, and W. Thompson, P. C.

Just before the dance Mr. Roy Stewart came along with a box full of flowers, which he offered for sale for the benefit of the N. A. D. The fellows jumped on him like a hired man into hot mince pie, and when they were through not a petal was left. R. S. grabbed his hat and ran, the fresh money jingling merrily. Soon he returned accompanied by Mr. Thomas Wood, each carrying an armful of packages containing boxes of candy and pop corn balls. These went like hot cakes, and the N. A. D. is better off because of it.

"Ed Szopa and 'Al' Rose are finding college life at present too soft for them. These powerful ex-football men, together with 'Shi' Shibley, the Arkansas flash of Mollcodde football fame, spend their free afternoons driving spikes into the framework of a house Mr. Eugene McConnell's mother is building in Chevy Chase. These fellows will be handy property around here when we other guys go broke during the holidays.

Gallaudet, in certain parts, was changed into the Bridge of Sighs on December 3d, when all students made out their schedule of studies for the second term. Nearly all subjects taught here are required ones, due to the smallness of the college, so a student has almost no choice as to his program of study, hence the little kickings here and there.

OMAHA.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Treuke were host and hostess to the Midwest Chapter at their pretty home Saturday night, Nov. 7. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. E. Hazel were the only non-members present. After a short business session, seven tables at "500" were played, the lady and man having won the most games were winners of the prizes, instead of according to scores. This was done for a change, but it did not meet with favor. Five ladies tied for first honors and, by cutting cards, Mrs. L. K. Holway drew highest card, so won the ladies first prize, a handsome salad-dressing set. Mrs. F. W. Booth, being second, won a lovely olive dish. Mr. F. W. Booth won the men's prize, a fine pair of cuff links. He won every game of the evening. Messrs. James W. Sowell and H. G. Long tied for second and drawing highest card, Mr. Sowell won a cravat. Assorted candies were served throughout the evening and at the close dainty refreshments, consisting of chicken salad and wafers, date pudding with whipped cream, and coffee were served.

Discerning friends of Robert W. Mullin recognized his picture in the rotogravure section of the Sunday Omaha Bee of Nov. 22. He obligingly posed as a Pilgrim Father for his boss, who is the staff photographer of that paper.

Rev. and Mrs. Mappes were tendered a house-warming party at their brand new home by the deaf of the Immanuel Lutheran Church, in Benson, Sunday evening, November 15th. A certain member told him at the afternoon services that he wished to see him on some business matter. As Rev. Mappes heard the knock on the door, he went to welcome his member, and behold he saw a large crowd that entered and made themselves at home. Mr. Treuke explained their intrusion, and to show the appreciation of the guests for the many acts of kindness that he and Mrs. Mappes had shown toward them, Mr. Treuke presented the happy couple with a beautiful framed picture. Appetizing refreshments brought by the guests were served by a committee.

Immanuel Lutheran Mission gave a party in the basement of the church, Wednesday evening, November 18th. Although a good many of the older pupils of the Nebraska School attended, the crowd was somewhat small. Several different games were played. Three young fellows were called from another room in succession and told to sit down on a chair in the middle of the room. They were blind-folded and a doll placed in one hand and a bottle of milk in the other. Then they saw that the joke was on them. Refreshments were served.

The Iowa Board of Education has chosen Mr. O. L. McIntire, for the past three years Superintendent of the Salem, Oregon School, as successor to Supt. E. A. Gruver, now Superintendent of the Mt. Airy, Pa. School. Mr. McIntire graduated from Westminster College at Fulton, Mo., in 1909 and was a normal at Gallaudet. With him comes his wife, a graduate of the University of Texas and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Blattner of the Oklahoma School. Mr. Blattner, a native of Iowa was one time a teacher at the Iowa School. We are glad to welcome Supt. and Mrs. McIntire into our midst and hope to make their acquaintance soon. The Iowa School is no doubt glad to have a superintendent again.

About Nov. 20, Miss Mabel Johnson motored down from Scottbluff with her father and mother. One evening during her stay some ten of her friends flocked to their hotel and had a delightful visit with Mabel. She visited her Alma Mater and every one found she had grown prettier and more sedate.

The Fontenelle Literary Society held its regular meeting in the Council Chamber, Saturday evening, November 21st. After a short business session, a very interesting program was presented. The entertainment committee with Mrs. John O'Brien as chairman, appointed a sub-committee to prepare a program for each separate month in the club year. The names of all members were written on slips of paper. Edwin Hazel, the founder of the society, told how the idea of a literary society entered his head. He urged the members on to better achievements this coming year. Mrs. Ota Blankenship followed with wit and humor. Mrs. E. Hazel, giving a monologue, impersonated a woman at a movie. It was much enjoyed. Francis Dulaney told why we should have a literary society. Eugene Fry's talk on the Sweeneys, was very entertaining. There being some time left, those interested in the E. M. Gallaudet Fund, explained its object, etc. When one speaker said she hoped Nebraska, whose quota is $553.00, would go over the top, there was a round of applause. Everyone of us, whether a native or adopted son or daughter, should join hands and boost for the Fund.

The November entertainment committee of No. 32, composed of O. Treuke, chairman; A. L. Johnson, Paul Randolph and E. Hazel, gave a County Fair at W. O. W. Hall, Saturday night, the 28th. There was a good-sized crowd. Boxes of candy were sold by holders of lucky numbers on a roulette wheel. Numbers in a basket drew sacks of fudge, peanuts, etc., at five cents a draw. Trying to throw rings on a quarter proved the most difficult, only one person succeeding all evening. Several proved good at throwing knives. Tieing and un-tieing a towel on a chair proved a popular pastime, the girls winning first, and at another try the boys won. Each received a stick of candy. Sandwiches, coffee and cookies, were served. The committee members were all dressed like farmers. About $13.00 was cleared.

Rev. J. H. Cloud has been unable to hold his regular monthly services here on account of an operation. He has been greatly missed by his many friends, who hope he will soon be as well and strong as ever.

Fred Anthony and Miss Hilda Meyers sprung a surprise by quietly getting married Saturday, November 7th. Rev. Chas. Savage officiated, with Mrs. Helen Stinton as the interpreter. The happy couple are living with Fred's brother, Riley, and family for the present. They expect to move into their cozy home in West Benson as it is ready. Mr. and Mrs. Riley E. Anthony gave them a miscellaneous shower, at the home of the Hurts, on November 22d. A house full of friends attended to offer their gifts and good wishes for happiness and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Netusil are getting over anxious to move into their new home, which is nearing completion.

Luther H. Taylor spent the weekend, visiting old friends in Kansas recently. He drove down in his new Dodge touring car.

HAL AND MEL.

World's Largest Carpet Laid in London Hotel

A carpet weighing 21 tons has been laid down in the foyer and restaurant of a leading London hotel. It covers a floor space of half an acre. Seventy men were required to handle it, and it is belived to be the largest in the world.

For the first time in the history of carpet making 64 oriental rugs were woven together. Sixty-two came from Persia and two from China. The weaving was done by rug workers from Samarkand.

According to their custom, the workers, before the growing carpet was allowed to encircle each rug, wove a piece of colored rice fiber crescent wire into the heart of it, to ensure that all who tread them shall know perpetual joy and felicity.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

Sunday, December 6th, at 3 P.M., a special service was held in St. Ann's Church, the occasion being the unveiling of a memorial tablet to Rev. John Chamberlain, former pastor of the church and assistant to the Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, founder of the Church Mission to Deaf-Mutes. It was a special occasion for the deaf of New York City, for the pews were filled with a crowd which included many deaf people of all faiths other than Episcopal. Dr. Chamberlain is well remembered as a friend of the entire community.

The tablet, which is of bronze, is 30 by 42 inches in size, and has been placed on the west wall, directly opposite the tablet dedicated to Rev. Thomas Gallaudet. The wording on the tablet is as follows:—

TO THE GLORY OF GOD AND IN LOVING MEMORY OF
THE REVEREND
JOHN CHAMBERLAIN D.D.
Born Dec. 7, 1838. Died Jan. 10, 1921
In the forty-ninth year of his ministry with the
CHURCH MISSION TO DEAF-MUTES
VICAR OF ST. ANN'S CHURCH
FOR THE DEAF
A Wise Counselor
A Loyal Devoted Friend
A Faithful Servant of Christ
His Life was a Benediction to
The Silent People to Whom He Ministered

"The path of the just is as the shining light that shineth more and more unto the perfect day."

The unveiling was performed by Mrs. Charles T. Shepherd, of Maplewood, N. J., eldest daughter of Dr. Chamberlain. Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain, the beloved widow of Dr. Chamberlain, was prevented by illness from leaving her home in Vermont to attend the ceremony. In the congregation were many personal friends of Dr. Chamberlain, besides representatives from the Board of Trustees of the Church Mission to Deaf-Mutes and from the Vestry of the Church of St. Matthew and St. Timothy, to which St. Ann's Church is a chapel.

Instead of a sermon, addresses were made in honor of Dr. Chamberlain by eminent men who had known him. Tribute was paid to his memory by Rev. John Kent, Vicar of St. Ann's Church; Rev. Frederick Burgess, Rector of St. Matthew and St. Timothy; Dr. Thomas Francis Fox, head teacher of the New York Institution for the Deaf; Rabbi Elzas, of the Hebrew Congregation of the Deaf; Isaac B. Gardner, Principal of the New York Institution for the Deaf, and Edwin A. Hodgson, editor of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL. Mr. Gardner interpreted the addresses that were given orally.

The prayer service was conducted by the Rev. Messrs. Burgess and Kent, assisted by Rev. Mr. Brad-dock, deacon, and Messrs. Robert Kerstetter, reader, and Otto Johnson, crucifer.

A choir composed of Misses Wanda Makowska, Eleanor Sherman, Jessie Garrick, Sophie Boatwright, Elsie Schwing, Doris Patterson and Ethel Brenneisen, rendered the hymns "O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee," "Watchman, Tell Us of the Night," and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

The altar was beautifully decorated with flowers, to the memory of Dr. Chamberlain and Mr. Albert A. Barnes, one of his loyal parishioners.

In tribute to the memory and good deeds of Abbe Charles Michael De l'Epee, near to one hundred deaf ladies and gentlemen gathered at Knights of Columbus Institute, Brooklyn, evening of November 22d.

A combination of the Xavier Eph-pheta Brooklyn De l'Epee societies was responsible for this year's observance. To Mr. Julius Kieckers must be given the honors of Master of Ceremonies, and to President S. J. Fogarty goes the glory of acting as chief host of the evening.

The colors of Old Glory formed a fitting background to the rostrum, intertwined around goldframed portraits of De l'Epee and Gallaudet.

Prof. Charles Nagle gave a high class magic and sleight-of-hand performance. He proved an entertaining comedian as well. Assisting him as interpreter was Mrs. Frank Lipps, an attractive daughter of deaf parents, and she filled the role to the satisfaction of all. Mr. Nagle's card tricks were of the unusual kind and had the "Smart Ales" bewildered.

In their tributes to l'Abbe, Dr. Thomas F. Fox and Alexander L. Pach accorded full praise, and commended the work of Gallaudet for upholding the methods of De l'Epee, which continue to the present day. Other speakers were Thomas J. Cosgrove, Sol Garson, Ben Friedwald, Matthew Higgins and James Loner-gan.

The serving of ice cream and cake was in charge of a committee of ladies, with Mrs. Julius Kieckers directing.

The Fanwood Alumni Association met in the Girls' Study of the Fanwood School on Saturday evening, December 5th.

Israel Koplowitz saw the finish of the six days bicycle race at the New Madison Square Garden. He says it was very exciting.

This coming Saturday the event of the year is to take place at St. Ann's, 511 West 148th Street, when a banquet in honor of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet will be given under the auspices of the New York Branch of the National Association of the Deaf.

The Hebrew Association of the Deaf's bazaar, managed by the ladies of the organization, will be in full serving on that evening, but it will not prevent many to avail themselves of attending the banquet in honor of founder of deaf-mute education in America—Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet.

The H. A. D. Bazaar opens on Wednesday evening, December 9th, and continues Thursday evening, December 10th, Saturday evening, December 12th, and Sunday afternoon and evening, December 13th. Supper will be served on Saturday evening—a good square meal, all the other evenings serving refreshments. With the Christmas holidays close at hand gifts of every description—useful or ornamental, a gift within every one's pocket book means—could he gotten at this affair. Plenty of fun in store, too. Keep the place in mind—H. A. D. Bazaar at Masonic Temple, 310 Lenox Ave., between 125th and 126th Streets—one flight up.

The Bronx Frats elected new officers for 1926 last Friday evening. They are: President, Fred C. Berger; Vice-President, Matthew Blake; Secretary, Edwin P. Bonvillian; Treasurer, Frank Rubano; Sergeant-at-Arms, William Hansen; Director, Louis Saracine; Trustees, William Hansen and Jacob Keiber.

William Milandi, a deaf-mute of Serbia, who has been a resident of Wyandotte, Mich., for the past six years, has been in New York for a few days. He returns to Michigan today (Thursday).

Miss Charlotte Croft was at the Army versus Navy foot ball game at the Polo Grounds recently. She said it was very exciting and wonderful. Her brother is Colonel Croft, the Commandant at Fort Hamilton.

On the 2d, Joseph S. Klein went to Baltimore, Md., in order to have physicians in Johns Hopkins Hospital make a test of his blood.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Abrams went to Boston recently, and took occasion to visit the new Home for Aged Deaf at Danvers, Mass.

Benjamin Segal, of Boston, Mass., is visiting an uncle in this city. He was at the Deaf-Mutes' Union League last Saturday.

This Thursday evening, December 10th, after the regular meeting, the Deaf-Mutes' Union League elects new officers for the year 1926.

Mrs. Pearce, of Port Washington, has made an unexpected recovery from her recent illness, and is able to sit up again.

FROM SEATTLE.

George Deveraux, of Yakima, went to South Dakota over a month ago, and returned home with a young bride, who was Clare Wall-brink. Both the bride and bridegroom attended the South Dakota School. George lived in Seattle a few years ago and has a number of friends, who extend to him and his wife hearty congratulations.

Holger Jensen, of Olympia, is the proud father of a second son, born recently. Holger was the president of the Glad Hand Club in Tacoma, the past year.

Mrs. N. E. Litherland, of Mabton, visited Portland and the nearby towns, and on her way back home, stopped a day or so in Seattle this month.

Rev. Gaertner, our pastor and all of the deaf in town are offering substantial sympathy to Sam Schneider by aiding him with ready cash. He was sent to the Riverton Hospital by our minister, who gave a goodly part of his spare time, helping to make Sam comfortable. A party is being planned for his benefit at the Bertrams' home.

John Overbye and Harold Harris were struck by an auto while crossing a street, during a thick fog, in Snoqualmie. The former was badly bruised, but he has recovered and the owner of the car has paid all the hospital expense. Harold decided to stay here, so he has been learning how to lath. He found it easier to find employment than formerly.

Mrs. Pauline Gustin accompanied Mrs. George to Anacortes, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Himmelschein for a couple days last week. The hostess presented Mrs. Axt a handsome puppy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Root started the winter home entertainment with a "500" party at their residence November 9th. Olympia oyster stew, sandwiches, cake and coffee, were served in appetizing way by the hostess.

Mrs. John Bodley is home from the hospital, recovering nicely from an operation on her hip.

At a street crossing, Roy Harris' Star was struck by a truck and somewhat damaged. A policeman indicated that Roy had the right of way and blamed the hearing driver.

From past experience, we are convinced that the percentage of recklessness on the part of deaf drivers here is very small, compared to those with all their senses. It is said that Mr. Grant handed a hundred dollars to an elderly lady, because he hit her, when she stepped directly in front of his car sometime last summer. The traffic cop complimented him.

Edwin Johnson and Mr. Grant who came from Nova Scotia last summer, left Seattle for California in the latter's machine. Edwin intended to stop in Scapoose, Oregon, to see his mother, and if nothing doing, he would continue on to California.

Alma Davis is now working at a leather concern, which situation was secured through the Lutheran Church employment bureau. There is a mat factory here, where the foreman had no interest in the deaf, but the two visits from Rev. Geo. W. Gaertner changed his mind. He will employ the deaf when help is needed.

Jack Bertram was presented with a pot of beautiful plants by the Portland Frats.

Chas. Gumaer's daughter, Hannah is now driving ground in her dad's new model Ford coupe, which is very comfortable. She says it is the greatest pleasure she has ever experienced.

Carl Garrison was compelled to return to Camano after two weeks in Seattle. He is not strong enough to work yet.

Joe Bixler, of Wenatchee, passed through here in his car to Renton, where he visited Mr. and Mrs. John Adams a few days, and resumed his trip southward. Los Angeles was his destination.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Riley, of Victoria, arrived in Seattle, Saturday, November 21st, in time to attend the bazaar of the Lutheran Church of Our Redeemer in the basement hall. It started at two o'clock in the afternoon, and a good number of hearing friends helped to dispose of the articles. At six o'clock nearly all of the Seattle deaf population dropped in for dinner and shopping.

Mrs. Geo. W. Gaertner, Aunt Pauline Gustin, the president of the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Root, the treasurer, and Mrs. Reeves, were there all afternoon and evening looking after everything.

The popular fish pond was in charge of Mrs. W. E. Brown, and before eight o'clock everything was fished out.

One hundred sixty-six and a few cents were realized, and will be used in improving the always crowded hall and kitchen. Much of the credit of the success is due to our pastor's wife, and to Mrs. Root and Mrs. Reeves, who had given so much of their time.

Mr. Root brought in about $12 worth of pads, besides donating considerable printing.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ecker, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Huffman, Ralph Pickett, of Tacoma, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Frederickson, of Anacortes and Rex Oliver, of Everett, were present.

Frank Graignic, of Waldron, the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, of Renton, attended the bazaar. Frank and John were among the three first Vancouver graduates and had not seen each other for thirty years. Mr. Graignic is a successful fisherman and a farmer, owning 54 acres, partly in fruit and berries. He had supported his widowed mother for twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley and daughter, Kathleen, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. True Partridge for a few days this week. The Partridges gave a nice supper party in their honor the other day. Those present, besides the guests of honor, were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Root, Miss Gould, a neighbor, who is deaf, and the Wrights.

Miss Anna Larson, an oral girl, but rather expert in signs, is engaged to be married to Mr. Ralph Pickett, in the near future.

November 22d, at Our Church of the Redeemer, Miss Annie Kingdon, Edwin Martin, John Hood and John Overbye, of the younger set, were confirmed before an audience of fifty.

Rev. Gaertner went to Victoria for the second time lately, which will be a regular schedule now, and everybody was at the church. The three young Scotchmen, whom our minister, with the aid of Mr. Riley, have been teaching signs, understood and enjoyed the sermon.

Some of the deaf in Vancouver, B. C., are clamoring for Rev. Gaertner to preach there. He is a very busy man, but he will do his best to put Vancouver on his schedule.

Mr. W. S. Hunter, one of the teachers of the Vancouver School, writes that he is planning a trip to Port Angeles and Seattle during the holidays.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Considerable local interest is felt here in the coming football game to be played by the deaf and high school boys of Schuylkill County on Saturday, December 5th. The Philadelphia Inquirer, on November 19th, announced the game as follows:

Champions of Schuylkill County and one of the greatest scholastic grid machines in the coal regions, the gladiators of Coal-dale High School, will engage the deaf-mute "wonders" of P. I. D. in a post season clash at Phillies' Ball Park, on Saturday, December 5th, it became known yesterday.

Ever since the Mt. Airy eleven won a place in the football several years ago, the up-State school has been hurling defies at George Harlow's proteges. For some diverse reason or other they could not get together, but finally they have agreed, and the coming battle looms as one of the season's classics.

The game was clinched after a letter sent to the sporting department of the Inquirer was forwarded to George Harlow, coach of the mutes, who readily agreed to play the crack Coal-dale aggregation.

"A Country Dance in a City Church" was given by the P. S. C., for the benefit of the Home for the Blind, Aged and Infirm Deaf of Torresdale, in the Parish House of All Souls' Church for the Deaf, on Saturday evening, November 28th.

We did not attend the event, but from reports received, it proved very successful and enjoyable. Although well attended by the deaf, the event was gotten up and managed largely by hearing friends of the P. S. A. D. and its Home. Music was provided for the hearing patrons, a prize for the best waltz was won by a young hearing lady, and refreshments were on sale throughout the evening.

The P. S. C. is a new organization, composed almost wholly of hearing persons, with the object of staging social affairs for the benefit of the Home. The success of its initial effort augurs well for the future usefulness of the new organization to boost the Home, and Pastor Smaltz showed commendable zeal in giving the use of the Parish House to assist the greatest charity of the deaf of Pennsylvania.

The twenty-fourth annual dinner of the Gallaudet Club will again be held at Kugler's Cafe, 34 South Fifteenth Street, on Saturday evening, December 12th, 1925. Mr. Harry E. Stevens is Chairman of the Dinner Committee, and his address is P. O. Box 81, Merchantville, N. J.

It is understood that Assistant Supt. J. Lyman Steed, of the Mt. Airy School, has been tendered the Superintendentcy of the Orgeon School for the Deaf, and has accepted. We may have more to say about Mr. Steed in our next letter. We only wish to say now that we regret his leaving us.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brookmire, of Washington, D. C., were visitors at All Souls' Church for the Deaf on Sunday, November 29th.

We must now say the Home for the Blind, Aged and Infirm Deaf, at Torresdale, where it has been removed from Doylestown. It may be a little inconvenient to reach the Home by trolley or bus now, but it may not be long before it can be reached conveniently, provided the plans of one monopolistic trolley company mature fully, or as expected. The easiest way to reach the place at present is by train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, unless by automobile.

Thanksgiving Day passed off quietly and uneventfully among the deaf hereabouts. The only event we noticed, was the P. I. D. football team victory over Williamson Trade School, by a score of 26 to 0, in the afternoon. There was no service, held in All Souls' Church, nor any events there in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Reider did a bit of entertaining the past week, which was also an unusual pleasure to them. At the beginning of the week, Mr. Reider's only brother in the East and a nephew from Berks County visited him for a couple of days, and on Wednesday evening, his daughter and son-in-law of York, Pa., came to spend Thanksgiving Day with him.

We believe that about the most interesting sight to be seen in Philadelphia at the present time is the building of the bridge across the Delaware River, which is said to be the longest suspension bridge in the world. From pier to pier it is 1750 feet long. Visitors to the city should not fail to see it. It is expected to be finished in July 1926, in time for the Sesqui-Centennial.

"A word to the wise is sufficient."

Philadelphia is reputed as "a city of homes," but, though that may be so, we would not have any deaf person now living elsewhere deluded by thinking, that being so, it ought to be easy to find a place here either transiently or permanently.

Now we have in mind the coming Sesqui-Centennial—scarcely six months off from now. We expect the city to be flooded with visitors during the months that the fair will be open, for the authorities plan an attractive program to draw them here. Then accommodation of the hosts of visitors may become a difficult problem, as it usually is during such an event; boarding-houses may be taxed to capacity and fancy or high prices be changed for board. It should be clear to all prospective visitors that only a small proportion of them can be taken care of by friends living in the city. These friends may have their own relatives to entertain, so, it behooves the prospective deaf visitor to come well prepared for any condition that may confront him, when the city is crowded.

In order that the above remarks may not be mistaken and an improper motive imputed to the writer, let us state plainly that once in a while complaint is heard that a deaf person from a distant place lands in the city, seeks out a prominent Frat and calls at his home, and after accosting him as Brother, blandly makes himself feel at home and expects accommodation for the night or longer, on the mere strength that he is his Brother Frat, and regardless of the fact that he is a stranger. Wherein is such an imposition justified in all the pages of the National Fraternal Society's manual of rules? Nowhere. With many a Frat, the best thing, he can afford to do in such a case is to courteously direct the stranger to a hotel or boarding place, which of itself would be putting the Brotherhood idea in practice.

Other visitors to All Souls' on Sunday, November 19th, were Miss Mabel Smith, of Trenton, N. J.; Parker Jerrell and his father; Miss Ruth Henry, Reading, Pa.

William Jordon, of Georgia, has settled down here, having secured work.

Miss Dora Hart and Miss Mary Sikes, inmates of the Torresdale Home, have been admitted to the Frankford Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Geo. B. Wilson visited Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott B. Miller at Elizabethtown on November 15th. On November 18th, Mr. Wilson was off work and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Miller. The latter two spent Thanksgiving Day with the latter's sisters in this city. They also called on Mr. and Mrs. Miller.

The annual Confirmation service of All Souls' Church for the Deaf will be held on the last Sunday in January, 1926.

FANWOOD.

Cadet Michael Capocci, a pupil at Fanwood, who contracted tuberculosis following an attack of the "flu" last spring, passed to his eternal rest last Saturday, the 28th of November, at Seton Hospital. The burial was on Monday, December 1st, in Calvary Cemetery. The pall bearers were Cadet Captains Kerwin and Jacobucci, Cadet Adjutant Cerneglio, Cadet First Sergeant Carroll, Cadet Drum Major Heintz, Cadet Color Sergeant Lynch, Cadets Kostyk and Aellis. The pupils at school extend their heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing family. One of the floral offerings was from the Margraf Club.

The pupils returned here last Monday, the 30th of November. They enjoyed the recess very much, and ate lots of Thanksgiving dinner, as also did the pupils who stayed here during the holiday.

On November 26th, the day of Thanksgiving, Cadet Sestile entered into a competitive walking race against one hundred contestants, including the famous American walkers, William Plant and Mack Weiss. The distance was ten miles, from the City Hall to Coney Island. Cadet Sestile finished in seventy-seventh place, and his time was 1:57:11, which was good for the start. He will get a medal on December 5th, as he succeeded in finishing the race before two hours, according to rules given by the Walkers' Club of America. The only pupil of Fanwood that witnessed the event was Cadet Aellis.

Miss Sarah Egan, a pupil at this school, entertained about ten couples at her home last Sunday, the 30th of November. They had a delightful party.

Mr. Arden M. Robbins and Major Francis G. Landon were interested visitors at the printing office on the 24th of November last. They are members of the Board of Directors of this Institution.

Four pending games were added to the basket ball schedule recently.

These were:
December 19—Audubon Five—Here
January 16—St. Paul, at Garden City
February 3—Peekskill Military Academy
February 20—Lexington A. A.

The Fanwood Basket ball team has already booked about fifteen games.

The writer of this Fanwood column advises you all to do your Christmas shopping early, in order to avoid the crowds, as Christmas is very near. Keep in mind the writer's advice.

On the second of December, Miss Frances Voget, a graduate of '25, of Fanwood School, made her first visit here. She rejoiced to see her teachers and old friends. Miss Edna Purdy accompanied her around the school for a brief time.

Lieutenant Lux announces to the members of the Fanwood Athletic Association that there will be two loving cups offered, by the Deaf-Mutes' Union League and the Trenton School for the Deaf, for the basketball scholastic championship. The first event will be between the Lexington A. A. team, coached by Mr. Worzel, and the Fanwood team, coached by Lieutenant Lux, which will be held in the 22d Regiment Armory, on the 20th of February. The Trenton team is coached by Mr. Boatwright, a graduate of Gallaudet College, and the Fanwood game will be staged in New Jersey, at the Y. M. C. A. court, on February 22d.

On the 2d of December, in the afternoon, the Eddie team easily overwhelmed the Frankie Five in a one-sided game, by the score of 33 to 14. The winners did good passing and accurate shooting.

Eddie Kerwin, speedy forward and captain of the victors, was the outstanding star, making ten (10) field goals.

The line up:—

FRANKIE		EDDIE
Jacobucci	R.F.	Grossman, S
Port	L.F.	Kerwin (Capt)
Heintz (Capt)	C.	Lander
Sciofield	R.G.	Giordano
Wyatt	L.G.	Blend

Substitute—Carroll for Kerwin. Field Goals—Kerwin, 10; Lander, 3; Grossman, 8; 2; Blend, 1; Jacobucci, 1; Port, 4; Heintz, 1. Foul Goals—Jacobucci, 2; Giordano, 1. Referee—Lieutenant Lux. Timekeeper—P. Prevete. Scorer—L. Farber.

There was a special meeting of the Fanwood Athletic Association last Monday, the 30th of November. Principal Gardner appeared and gave an impressive speech, congratulating the Fanwood Relay team that won the loving cup, by beating the Lexington School team and the St. Joseph Institute team, last Saturday, the 28th of November. The members of the Relay team are Cadet Lieutenant Garrick, the first leg; Cadet Lieutenant Schurman the second leg; Cadet Drum Major Heintz, the third leg; Cadet Captain Kerwin, the anchor.

A quarterly meeting of the Fanwood Alumni Association was held in the girls' study hall, on the evening of Saturday, December 5th. In the face of very inclement weather, over fifty members were in attendance to honor the memory of Dr. Isaac Lewis Peet, whose birthday occurs on December 4th.

After the business session, with addresses, the Social committee, under the leadership of Mrs. W. S. Rose, took charge, and several novel and very amusing games were introduced, including "Going to London," "Identification," and Card memorizing. The winners of prizes in the contests were Misses Jessie Garrick, Elsie Schwing, and Nettie Miller. The serving of refreshments brought the session to a close. Principal Gardner was present and showed his pleasure in meeting and greeting the "Grads." The quarterly meetings are held on the second Saturday evenings of January, March, June, and October.

On the third of December, at noon, Cadet Lieutenants William Schurman and Kaple Greenberg and Cadet Melvin Ruthven were permitted by Principal Gardner, to visit the "Majestic," the biggest steamship of Great Britain, at Pier 59, on Eighteenth Street, New York City. The chief of that ship, Mr. J. A. Medley, an Englishman, guided them to the First, Second and Third Class quarters, dining rooms, library, smoking room, etc. The First Class has a lovely swimming pool, and an enormous gymnasium. The Cadets gazed with amazement at the wide kitchen and bakery, and felt that the "Majestic" is not a steamship, but a hotel. Cadet Lieutenant William Schurman and Cadet Melvin Ruthven, had heretofore visited the steamship "Leviathan."

On account of the birthday of Dr. Isaac Lewis Peet, there was a full attendance of pupils in the chapel, last Friday, December 4th. They listened to impressive and interesting talks given by Principal Gardner, Dr. Fox and Prof. Jones, about the life of Dr. Isaac Lewis Peet.

December 4th is a notable date in the history of the Institution:—The birthday of Dr. Isaac Lewis Peet; The Institution transferred here from the 50th Street, sixty-nine years ago; Dr. Isaac B. Gardner became Principal here eight years ago, on that date.

The Fanwood basket ball team will clash in a basket ball game with the Horace Mann School team, at the latter's court, December 11th.

OHIO.

News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 993 Franklin Ave., Columbus, Ohio.

November 28, 1925.—the Stitch and Chatter Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Walter Wark in the South end at its last meeting. Despite that Jupiter Pluvius flood gate was open all day and poured down a steady stream, it failed to keep the members away, for every one of them was on hand. A lot of sewing was done for charity purposes, with a little chatter now and then to give rest to eyes and fingers.

The hostess set out a fine repast at noon, to which all did justice, and when the members left late in the afternoon, was heartily thanked for the entertainment.

On the occasion of his 85th birthday anniversary, November 9th, Wm. H. Grigsby received many congratulations from friends and gifts also. His daughter, Mrs. George Koehler, with whom he is now making his home, prepared an extra dinner for the occasion, which he and immediate friends enjoyed.

Mr. Grigsby was for many years employed at the school as house man, until rheumatism compelled him to relinquish the duties. He was for a time, until a couple of years ago, cared for at the Home for Deaf. The inroads of the malady make it difficult now for him to move about.

Thanksgiving Day at the school was observed in the usual manner. On Wednesday, at the chapel service, the writer was the principal speaker, dwelling upon his first Thanksgiving Day spent at the school in 1866, comparing existing conditions then and now. At that time the school occupied the old buildings, only one of which is left and now used by the cabinet shop and on the floor and the Chronicle office on the 2d floor. Heating the buildings was by stoves, with wood as fuel, and the boys did the sawing, splitting the large pieces and carrying the wood to the rooms in the main building. On the boys' side during severe winter weather, it was not uncommon to find the water left in basins in the wash room, which was in the basement, frozen, and the damp roller towels in like condition. There was little or no coal used then, no large mines were operated down in the Hocking Valley, and no railroad to bring it to the city.

After the new building, now the present main structure, was completed, conditions were changed for the better, and at this day pupils enjoy physical and educational advantages their predecessors did not have, and they surely should feel thankful to the Divine Being that they have such blessings, and make use of them to their utmost.

On Thursday, pupils were free to spend the day as best suited them, the older ones being allowed to attend movies in the city, if they desired. Superintendent Jones was able to secure a sufficient number of turkeys to provide the household for its Thanksgiving dinner, and with the other accompaniments dressing, gravy, mashed potatoes, celery, cranberry sauce, mince pie, bread and butter.

A football game between the 1st and 2d teams of the school was played on the school's grounds, and in the evening a play was given in the chapel, entitled "Mother Goose's Thanksgiving Party." It was prepared by a teachers committee, composed of Mr. La Fountain and Miss Brubaker. The whole was cleverly gotten up, and acted, much to the delight of the children. The second part was the declaiming of "Yankee Doodle," by three girls donned in trousers, dark jackets and wearing straw hats. The rendition of it in pantomime was just fine and was heartily applauded at the close. Henrietta Holmes, Igora Sutton, and Violet Liebrock were the actors.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hill and Myron C. Burt, all of Toledo, went down to Knoxville, Tenn., the former home of Mrs. Hill, for a visit last evening, the party on its return, with the addition of the sister of Mrs. Hill, Miss Delra Ray, stopped off here long enough to witness the pupils of the school marching into the dining room, and also meet a few friends. The party started for Toledo afterwards. The trip both ways was made in Mr. Burt's big auto.

Everybody is helped— everybody should help!

TUBERCULOSIS in this country is a threat against your health and that of your family. There are more than a million cases in this country today.

The germs from a single case of tuberculosis can infect whole families. No one is immune. The only sure escape is to stamp out the dread disease entirely. It can be stamped out. The organized work of the tuberculosis crusade has already cut the tuberculosis death rate in half. This work is financed by the sale of Christmas Seals.

Everybody is helped by this great work—and everybody should help in it. Let every member of your family stamp all Christmas parcels, letters and greeting cards with these able little warriors against disease. Everybody, everywhere, buy Christmas Seals—and buy as many as you can.
